The DODONI dairy industry made quite a splash as the official sponsor of the "Toques d' Or" award ceremony, which took place at the iconic Grande Bretagne Hotel on Monday, September 13.

Mr. Hector Botrini, the chef and owner of "Etrusco" and "Botrini's" restaurants, was invited to design and prepare the menu for the legendary award ceremony night.

The authentic and award-winning DODONI Feta PDO cheese and the DODONI Strained Yoghurt enriched the distinguished chef's imaginative dishes, impressing the guests with the masterly harmony of the delicious flavours that he created, proving once again that high gastronomy and quality raw material are two interrelated concepts.

DODONI's presence, as well as its high-quality and tasty products made from 100% Greek fresh milk, bind the firm to prominent restaurants and high-end gastronomy specialists, who continue to rely on the company's excellent quality, showing off the country's modern culinary scene.

DODONI's Marketing Manager, Vicky Papoutsaki, stated: "We are delighted to have the backing of such a prestigious institution. The "Toques d' Or " Awards are arguably the longest-running tradition that annually recognizes and honours the greatest restaurants in the country, resulting in a genuine celebration of taste. DODONI is tied closely to the institution's attributes and could not be absent from this event, for it is a night devoted to high gastronomy and a celebration of taste, with a focus on quality, nutritional balance, and taste innovation"
